

Port Commissioner Passes Away

Bingen, Washington – Port Commissioner Rodger Ford unexpectedly passed away April 18, 2010, in his home outside Lyle, Wash., at the age of 55. His family will be holding a Celebration of Life potluck at his home at 495 Fisher Hill Road in Lyle on Saturday, April 24, starting at 11:00am.

Ford represented Commissioner District #2 encompassing the communities of Appleton, Dallesport, Klickitat, Lyle, Murdock, and Wahkiacus. He had been involved with the Port since the mid-90s when he served as an advisory committee member. He was elected to the Port Commission in November 2001 and reelected to a second term in November 2007.

Quick Facts:.....Port District Commissioner Rodger Ford passed away unexpectedly at the age of 55. He had served on the Port Commission for just over eight years.

“This is a tragic loss for the Port, for our community, and for the County,” said Marc Thornsbury, the Port’s Executive Director. “Rodger was dedicated to the long-term success of the Port, understood its potential to improve the lives of local residents, and had a clear vision of what it should become. On behalf of the Port Commission and its staff, I extend our deepest sympathies and condolences to Rodger’s family and friends. Klickitat County is a better place because of his contributions and he will be greatly missed.”

In addition to serving on the Port Commission, Ford owned and operated R & M Game Birds, provided bird management services to the Columbia Gorge Regional Airport, was involved with the SR-35 Bridge Crossing project, and served seven years as the representative for Washington ports on the Mid-Columbia Economic Development District (MCEDD) board. He was a strong supporter of regional economic development and a champion of Klickitat County.

In accordance with state law, the Port Commission will appoint a replacement to serve until a commissioner is selected in the November 2011 election. The elected commissioner will then serve the remaining two years of Ford’s six-year term. Individuals located in Port Commission District #2 who are interested in serving are encouraged to contact the Port at 509-493-1655 or port@portofklickitat.com.

About the Port of Klickitat

Economic development, transportation, and marine-based recreation are key functions of the Port of Klickitat.
