For Immediate Release

Construction Begins At Bingen Point

Bingen, Washington – Construction has started on the Port of Klickitat's Bingen Point Infrastructure Improvement project. Scheduled for completion in early November, the project will affect visitors to Marina Park and those using the walking trail along the south side of Bingen Lake.

“Because work is taking place in areas frequented by the public, safety is a primary concern,” said Port Executive Director Marc Thornsburry. “We urge those that are visiting Marina Park, as well as those walking to it or along Bingen Lake, to avoid construction areas and to be aware of the presence of heavy equipment and other construction-related hazards.”

Thornsburry noted that open trenches and vaults, drop-offs, uneven terrain, and other dangers capable of damaging vehicles or injuring people and pets may await those who choose to cross barricades or ignore signs adding, “We want our visitors to have an enjoyable experience and hope they will respect the safety devices and heed the warnings and instructions provided by the contractor.”

The trail running along the south side of Bingen Lake is already closed to all pedestrians from the Maple Street turn-around east to Larch Street and it will remain closed for the duration of the project. Visitors are urged to use the dike road located south of the trail to skirt the construction zone. In addition, at various times throughout the project, the road to Marina Park will be closed to traffic and pedestrians. However, the public will continue to be able to access the park via detour routes established during the closure periods.

To request additional information about the project or to report an unsafe condition, please contact the Port at 509-493-1655 or via e-mail at port@portofklickitat.com.
