Ferrellgas To Site At Dallesport

Bingen, Washington – On January 22, 2013, the Port of Klickitat and Ferrellgas signed a ground lease for the former Empire Gas site in the Port's Dallesport Industrial Park. Just over one acre in size, the property will be initially used to store 30,000 gallons of liquid propane gas (LPG). Though the agreement does not preclude additional storage facilities, any expansion would be subject to approval of the Klickitat County Board of Adjustment.

“Many of our constituents use propane to cook, heat their homes, dry their clothes, or run their generators so it's important to have this resource in our community,” remarked Port Commissioner Bill Schmitt. “We are pleased to welcome Ferrellgas to Dallesport and Klickitat County.”

Ferrellgas continues a long history of LPG providers that have located at the Dallesport Industrial Park over the last two decades. Prior tenants include Columbia Propane, All Star Gas (f.k.a. Empire Gas), and most recently, AmeriGas.

“The Port is sensitive to anxiety regarding a propane operation at the industrial park,” said Marc Thornsburry, the Port's Executive Director. “Many of these concerns are spawned by the fire that occurred at the AmeriGas facility in 2005. However, there have been no incidents since and we believe that, given the risks inherent with LPG storage, an industrial park is the best place for it rather than near a school or residential area.”

Before agreeing to execute a lease, the Port required Ferrellgas to obtain a Conditional Use Permit (CUP) from Klickitat County and to make contact with the local fire department (Klickitat County Fire District No. 6). The conditions of the CUP require Ferrellgas to, among other things, perform regular site inspections, maintain an on-site health and safety plan, provide safety training for its employees, and monitor the site for evidence of unauthorized entry.
